Fund Manager Commentary

March saw global equities build on the strong gains of 2019, returning 3.4% in GBP terms, while the fund gained 1.6%. Central banks, led by the Federal Reserve, continued their dovish orientation, driving further performance disparity between growth and value stocks. March saw the MSCI growth index outperforming its value peer by c.1.8% in GBP terms, taking the 2019 outperformance to 4.5%. A further reflection of the growth appetite is the Nasdaq's 14.6% rise year-to-date, outperforming FTSE World by c.4.6%. In a similar vein, US equity markets continue to outperform peers returning 4%. The backdrop of deteriorating global growth led Europe to underperform rising only 2.6% in GBP terms. By sub-sector, the key outperformer continued to be Tobacco, rising 9.3% and 20.6% year-to-date, following a poor 2018. In terms of stock performance, Sony fell 15% on concerns of slowing growth and lack of restructuring momentum. In terms of positive contributors, signs of improving trade rhetoric between the US and China provided stimulus for our exposed holdings, namely, Hi-P (+19%), Chroma Ate (+17%), Horiba (+10%) and Sporton (10%). We initiated a new position in SAP, which we view as increasingly enabling the demand for resource efficiency through cloud-based enterprise planning solutions.
